Healthcare Ready Announces Julie Abrams as Acting Executive Director

WASHINGTON (January 27, 2025) Healthcare Ready — the D.C. based nonprofit organization that works to help ensure patient access to healthcare in times of disasters — is excited to announce that Julie Abrams, formerly the Associate Director of Programs and Response, will be stepping into the role of Acting Executive Director. Julie brings a wealth of experience and expertise to the role, ensuring continued stability and focus on the organization’s mission to strengthen healthcare systems and supply chain resilience.

Healthcare Ready has long been a trusted partner in strengthening the nation’s healthcare systems and supply chain resilience. Under Julie’s leadership, the organization is poised to continue its mission of protecting communities, fostering collaboration, and ensuring access to care during times of crisis.

During her tenure with Healthcare Ready, Julie has played a critical role in advancing key initiatives that protect communities and enhance preparedness across the healthcare landscape. Her understanding of the organization’s programs and partnerships positions her to lead seamlessly during this transition.

“I am honored to step into this role and continue working toward Healthcare Ready’s vital mission,” said Julie Abrams. “This organization has long been a trusted resource for strengthening preparedness and response, and I look forward to supporting its work to protect and serve communities in need.”

Healthcare Ready is committed to its mission of building resilient communities and fostering collaboration among healthcare and emergency response stakeholders. The organization is excited to embrace this new chapter under Julie’s guidance, ensuring it remains at the forefront of healthcare resilience and emergency response.
